

UNDER ARREST.

Seven of Rev. Van Cleave's Assassins Identified.

Six of Them Being Members of the Preacher's Congregation.

His Plain, Honest Preaching Displeased Them, and They Repeatedly Threatened to Drive Him Away—He Gives an Account of the Outrage.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., June 13.—Sheriff Shuck, of Harrison county, and his deputies arrested and took to Corydon and lodged in jail the following persons, charged with "white-capping": Rev. Benjamin T. Van Cleave, at Moberly, Harrison county, at 1 o'clock on the morning of the 11th; Alva H. Welker and Charles Welker, sons of a well-known Methodist preacher; J. V. G. Louden and James Louden, brothers; Cortez Wolfe, Jacob Hannel and Cortez Murr. All the arrested parties except one are members of Rev. Van Cleave's church, and all are men who have moved in the best circles of society and are regarded as good citizens.

The legal proceedings taken by Van Cleave against these men are under the white-cap statute of Indiana. One of the parties accused yet remains to be arrested. Four others were not recognized by Rev. Van Cleave. Those under arrest will have a preliminary examination on the 14th, and have engaged able attorneys to defend them.

A visit to Rev. Van Cleave at Moberly Sunday revealed some new facts in connection with the white-capping. He says that violence has frequently been threatened him because of his plain, honest preaching. "I felt my duty," Mr. Van Cleave said, "to reprove sin in all its forms. I therefore preached against liquor drinking, card playing, bad conduct in the church during service, and all other impurities of life. I have had to reprove ill-behaved persons from the pulpit. These things made me enemies, who have been working up a bad state of feeling in the church for several months, and trying to drive me out of the pastorate of Moberly circuit. Anonymous letters have been sent me through the mails and otherwise threatening me with a white-capping and other punishment, but I went fearlessly forward in the discharge of what I conscientiously believed my duty as a minister of Christ's Gospel. They have kept their threats, as my condition to-day shows you. They came to my house at 1 o'clock Saturday morning, battered down the door with a fence rail and railroad tie, seized and dragged me out, because I had no weapon for defense and there were twelve men against one, and then beat me cruelly with hickory gads. When my wife came to my assistance she was slapped and knocked about, and threatened with further violence, and, as you see, is now prostrated as a result. I know the men for whose arrest I have sworn out writs, and I recognized all of them. Four of the twelve men were so disguised that I did not recognize them. I will prosecute those arrested to the end of the law."

Rev. Van Cleave's injuries are severe and painful. His back is frightfully lacerated, and great black and blue welts are raised upon it from the shoulders to the hips. The general sympathy of the Moberly people is with him, but the faction in his church that has tried to drive him from the pulpit, of course, sympathize with the white caps.

Harrison county citizens are determined to put down white-capping, and unless the arrested parties succeed in establishing an alibi on trial, they stand a good chance of joining the Dubois county gang in the penitentiary.

DEATH OF COL. POLK.

The President of the Alliance Passes Away at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Col. L. L. Polk, president of the Farmers Alliance, died at Garfield hospital at 11:15 Saturday morning.

Col. Polk was a relative of President Polk. He was a native of North Carolina, where he was born about fifty-five years ago. His education was received in the common schools.

During the war he served for a time in the confederate army and resigned to go to the legislature, to which body he had been elected. Later, he filled for several years the office of commissioner of agriculture for North Carolina and later still he began the publication of the Progressive Farmer, which he managed.

aged for a long time. At the time of his death he was serving his third term as president of the body to which he has given so much of his time and attention.

Col. Polk's home was at Raleigh, N. C. He leaves a wife and three children.

Col. Polk was of great value to his party as a stump speaker and was an able writer on topics of particular interest to the farmer. The people's party will meet in convention in Omaha, July 4, and the probability is that if Col. Polk had survived he would have been nominated for president or vice president if the party should have decided to put a ticket in the field.

OUTWAITE AT WEST POINT.

"Pluck" Was One of His Commendable Traits.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 13.—The graduation exercises at the Military academy took place Saturday. Congressman Joseph H. Outwaite, of Ohio, delivered the first address before the students in Armory hall. He said in part: "Even the exercise of unflinching determination, persistent application and dauntless courage does not always win promotion. But in the future will be many opportunities for those who have fallen below the average to retrieve the past and possibly outstrip your more honored companions of to-day. 'One thing that is cultivated here among you cadets is of great value to its possessor; it is what men commonly call 'pluck.' Its lessons are not generally found in the books nor taught by the professors. You need not be told how they are learned; you give yourself those lessons. With the true soldier, the greater his peril the stronger his pluck; with a deep sense of responsibility, his determination and resultant energy sometimes stays the hand of death itself. Sometimes the enthusiasm of success is just as potent, but there is pluck also."

SMALL-POX PROCLAMATION.

Illinois Health Authorities Thoroughly Aroused Over the Outlook.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 13.—The threatened epidemic of small-pox has called forth from Dr. F. W. Kelly, secretary of the state board of health, a proclamation enjoining upon all municipal authorities and local boards of health the urgent necessity of steps to secure the vaccination of all over whom they have authority. The proclamation also appeals to the press to help in having the ideas it contains carried out. In enforcing the claim for co-operation with the state board it adds: "Seven cases of small-pox in one Iowa town, upward of eighty cases in Ohio and West Virginia towns and recent cases in Michigan and other neighboring States, as well as two recent cases in Chicago, clearly indicate that this loathsome disease again threatens Illinois after ten years of almost complete freedom from its ravages." The last epidemic resulted in panic and quarantine; interrupted travel, traffic and business; closed schools, churches and courts; caused 8,850 cases, 2,978 deaths and involved a money loss of nearly $7,500,000.

SHOT DOWN.

A Colored Man Is Filled Full of Bullets.

For Criminally Assaulting a White Woman at Guthrie, Oklahoma.

While Another Is Taken to Wichita for Safe-Keeping—Two Revolting Crimes in One Day Calls Down the Wrath of the White People.

GUTHRIE, Ok., June 13.—There was great excitement in this city Sunday night, occasioned by two criminal assaults by colored men upon white women Sunday. A colored lad named Holley assaulted Mrs. Charles Moore, the wife of a freighter, who was away from home at the time. He was arrested and a mob surrounded the jail, threatening to lynch him.

The colored men of the town claimed that Holley was innocent, although he had confessed his guilt to the sheriff, and a race war seemed imminent for a time. There was much angry talk. "Judge" Perkins, a colored lawyer, being spokesman for the colored men. During the excitement he said: "Let the whites harm that man and the town will be in ashes before morning."

The sheriff smuggled the prisoner from the jail and took him to Wichita, Kan., for safe-keeping. The second outrage was that made upon the wife of James Genken, who is the engineer of the electric plant, by an unknown colored man, who escaped. A posse, headed by Genken, started on his trail, determined to lynch him if they captured him.

There now seems to be considerable doubt as to the removal of Holley from the jail.

The colored people say that the statement was circulated by the whites so that the colored people would disperse and give the whites a free field for a lynching. A great mob of colored people Sunday night surrounded the jail. The colored people have sent couriers to Langston City, the colored colony, ten miles distant, with the report that the whites are about to lynch an innocent colored man, and many colored people are flocking here determined to protect the object of the white vengeance.

Many of the colored men are armed and hundreds of whites are carrying Winchester and revolvers. The police have been largely reinforced. Intense excitement prevails, and any insignificant encounter between a black and a white may lead to a race war.

Sheriff Hixon and Chief of Police Kelley are disarming the colored men. As many as fifty old shotguns and rifles have been taken; also, a number of small fire arms. Three weapons were taken from three colored men who have just arrived from Toke, seventeen miles distant. Col. H. P. Clark, commander of the territorial militia, is in the city. He reported to acting Gov. Martin for duty, but the situation does not now seem serious enough to warrant the calling of troops. Gangs of excited people are on the street corners.

All congregations of Negroes are being ordered to disperse. The police and deputies are kept busy moving colored people.

MIDNIGHT.—Information has just reached the sheriff here that Coleman, who outraged Mrs. Genken, was overtaken by the posse at 9 o'clock Sunday night, six miles south of town, and was shot to death.

This news has greatly intensified the excitement and the colored people are threatening violence. The officers have been aware of the lynching for some hours and began disarming the colored men before it became generally known, anticipating that the news would drive the colored people into a frenzy.

WOMAN AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Mrs. Potter Palmer's Report of Her Visit Abroad in Their Interest.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Mrs. Potter Palmer, president of the Board of Woman Managers of the World's fair, arrived in this city Sunday, on the steamship Etruria. She was absent seven weeks, and visited England, Austria, France and Belgium, in the interest of the fair.

Throughout these countries, and others which she had not an opportunity to visit, she said the sentiment was very favorable in behalf of having a woman's exhibit. The trouble with a great many European countries was that their parliaments, like some of our own state legislatures, did not properly specify what portion of the appropriation made should be devoted to the woman's exhibit.

An interesting bit of information obtained from Mrs. Palmer was the fact that there was some dissension in the women's commission from England. The duchess of Abercorn and the countess of Aberdeen both claimed to represent the Irish product, which will be principally lace. Politics entered into the deliberations of the committee, and both claim priority.

Mrs. Palmer said that while our women proclaim to be foremost in every movement, they were far behind, as regards practical work, their sisters in England. She was rather ashamed of this, but had to admit what she saw.

Among the countries heard from, where action had been taken with regard to the woman's exhibit, are Italy, where the queen is the patroness; Germany, Princess Frederick Christian, the queen; France, Mme. Carnot, and Austria, Princess Metternich. Work is being done, in the countries which haven't yet appointed committees, to forward the project and have the governments recognize the importance of a woman's exhibit at the fair.

From such countries as Syria and India, where it is not expected that committees will be appointed by the government, the board of women's managers of the fair are negotiating with American women resident there to send exhibits of everything unique in women's work.

At that time Mr. Henry Day denied any knowledge of Mrs. Drayton's intention of contesting the will. Neither Mrs. Drayton nor Mr. Day was at home Sunday when called upon.
